Present day comments: This event was Mick Waller's only win of the Sidcup Sixty Trial.

Bits from the report in the December 'Compass', the magazine of the Sidcup Club are:

- On Saturday, our good friend John (Copper) Waller came along complete with leg shields, windscreen and panniers full of route marking material. What, no handlebar muffs, John? He pushed in through loads and loads of mud until he was exhausted, and so were we.
- Typical "Sixty" weather. All the riders seemed to enjoy themselves. Some asked for a second lap, but that was impossible owing to a large entry (162) and time factor.
- I apologise to those people who came down to observe and were unable to obtain a job, but by 10 o'clock I had all the sections covered and more than enough help.
